I wish our Iowa Attorney General would focus his time and resources on the good state of Iowa instead of trying to promote his good name at the expense of taxpayers. This law suit has gone on long enough and needs to end. People like Tom Miller have made Microsoft out to be a bad guy when there products have revolutionized business and home computing. We Americans have a choice to buy any product we also have the choice not to buy. May be Tom Millers and his State Cronies should spend there time on the likes of Enron and Arthur Anderson.
